ARREST DEMOCRATS.

Scheme to Make Wholesale Arrests on Political Charges.

Disreputable White Men, Cleaner Than The Republicans The Probable Instigators.

It has become known that the Republicans and their allies are trying to have some of the leading Democrats of Hopkinsville arrested under the recent instructions of Judge Evans, upon the claim that they prevented negroes from voting in 1897, by locking them up and guarding them until the polls closed. It was not the intention to fire off this boomerang until after the election, but it was too good for some of the Republicans to keep.

The KENTUCKIAN is informed that all details have been arranged and the warrants prepared in type-written form, giving the names of a number of the best citizens of Hopkinsville and Christian county.

Marshal James' recent mysterious visit to this city is now explained. It is believed that the chief conspirators in this nefarious scheme are disreputable ward politicians, who formerly affiliated with the Democratic party, but who are now controlled by the Republicans and put forward whenever they have dirty work to do. The KENTUCKIAN is in possession of the names and other particulars.

These steps are in line with the desperate methods advised by Taylor, Deboe and other Republicans, who openly advocate force in their speeches and predict bloodshed at the polls.

Baffled in their purpose to steal the election again this year, these Republicans are driven to desperation. Powerless to commit fraud, they would turn to force and intimidation. The instruction of a federal judge on the eve of the election are to be used in the effort to frighten the officers of election into letting fraudulent votes be polled, and talk of bloodshed is to be indulged in to scare the timid into staying away, and threats of arrest are being made to prevent these methods from being resisted.

This is the condition of the campaign two weeks before the election. These methods will not avail. The Democrats are aroused as they have seldom been aroused. The very liberties of the people are threatened and men will be found with the courage, the determination and the fidelity to duty to meet all requirements.

The remains arrived in this city Saturday and were taken to Fruit Hill, and on Sunday morning were interred in the Ebenezer church burying ground, near Pilot Rock.

AGED 105.

Probably The Oldest Woman in The County Died Friday.

Matilda Williams, an aged colored woman, died at her home in Gainesville last Friday. She was probably the oldest woman in Christian county, her age being given at 105 years. She had been sick for several months and died of the illness to extreme old age. The remains were interred in the colored cemetery Saturday.

LINES DRAWN.

The Democrats Opposed By Another Mixed Ticket.

City Politics as it Appears Two Weeks Ahead of The Election—Read and Ponder.

In the excitement incident to the State campaign, the good people of Hopkinsville should not lose sight of the great importance of the city election to be held at the same time.

Nine years ago the city government of Hopkinsville passed into the hands of the Democrats. The ward system has enabled the Democrats to retain control since that time and the present excellent condition of the city's affairs is the result of the good government thus assured.

Two years ago it became necessary for the good of the public service to change the personnel of the Council in some wards.

In the political shake-up of the previous year some of the members left the party and these men allied themselves with the Republicans and attempted to deliver the city into the hands of that party. They found willing allies among the Republicans of the city. The colored voters especially rallied to the fusion ticket and some Democrats were deluded into supporting the bolting ticket. The election boards were packed in the interest of the allied forces and in the hardest fight ever seen in the city, the Democrats saved the city government by a margin so close that it turned upon the votes of a few Republicans in one ward who held the business of the city above the ambition of a candidate who had been repudiated by the party he had betrayed.

It developed afterwards that the leaders of this movement had promised every office at the disposal of the Council to one or more persons, using the patronage of the city to influence supporters. This in defiance of the plain provisions of the constitution and the statutes. They even made promises to the liquor men that secured their solid support.

In the present campaign the same contest is to be fought over, except that the issue is now well defined and thoroughly understood.

A conglomerate ticket composed of four former Democrats, two white Republicans and one colored Republican is now pitted against the Democratic ticket. It is reported to have been endorsed by the Republican Committee in Executive session, though the leaders in some wards are still masquerading as Democrats. They have again enlisted the support of the whiskey men, it is said by a promise to deprive the city of $3,500 revenue by reducing license from $500 to $250. They have again appealed to the Republicans for support. In 1897 the ticket claimed to be made up of Democrats, but this year three of the nominees of 1897 have quit the gang and returned to the support of the regular Democratic ticket from Goebel down. They saw the drift of things and were unwilling to be led into the Republican party.

The contest this year is almost upon party lines. The mixed ticket will receive but few votes from the Democratic side, except such as can be influenced by promises of one kind or another, of the pie crust order.

The good citizens of Hopkinsville know that the 600 colored votes of the city, with the assistance of 200 politicians, cannot be relied upon to furnish a proper government for this progressive growing city.

They have seen the Democratic party in nine years decrease the bonded debt from $115,000 to $70,000, $33,000 of this by the present council.

They have seen the city judge's office made a source of revenue to the city by the fearless prosecution of the law-breakers of high or low degree.

They have seen the liquor license increased from $225 to $500 and the number of saloons decreased from 18 to 13.

They have seen the morals of the city elevated and good order preserved at all times.

They have seen the city supplied with electric lights, waterworks and improved gas and telephone systems.

They have seen many miles of new streets macadamized and new pavements laid down on numerous streets.

They have seen vacant lots cover-

POULTRY SELLING.

A Sensible Discussion of Marketing to the Best Advantage.

A paper written by P. H. Sprague, of Chicago, read before the National Poultry Association of Chicago, at the Sherman house, Chicago, Sept. 6, 1899.

Mr. President and Members of the National Poultry Association of Chicago:

It has been to me a matter of wonderment that I should have been selected from all your number to prepare this paper. I very much preferred the work should have been done by another. Perhaps your secretary thought I was the proper one, hence felt justified in so insistently urging it upon me, because of my connection for many years with the business of selling poultry supplies and poultry and eggs of all kinds. While I have since very much regretted that I gave way to that insistent urging and consented to do this work, and while I very much doubt the wisdom of the selection made, yet I do not think it exactly egotism to say that the transacting of a business of $1,500 per day in the average for every day in the year may in some sense have been a preparation for the task; therefore, such thoughts as are here presented have been suggested by knowledge gained by actual personal experience.

I do not propose, however, to treat the subject from the standpoint of the commission merchant, but rather from that of the fancier and farmer. What I have learned as a commission merchant in a somewhat expensive school is too valuable to give away to the one hundred or more keen competitors right here in Chicago, all of them doing as large and some of them a larger business than myself. There are no combinations or trusts in this branch of trade; every one for himself is the rule, and success is only looked for as the result of reputation obtained by faithful work and honest dealing.

I say fancier and farmer, and of course, when I mention farmer I mean poultry farmer, either exclusively as such or in connection with the production of other kinds of stock or grains, and I put the two, fancier and farmer, in one classification, because I believe there should be little difference between them. No one will deny that the more of a fancier the farmer becomes, the greater will be his success, and if the fancier does to some extent adopt the methods of the farmer he will always be a purchaser of specimens rather than a seller. The farmer can do better with the fancier's thoroughbreds than with mongrels, and the fancier, who does not raise enough to properly cull, is making no advancement.

To sell poultry successfully we must first have the stuff to sell. Our object must be to get the best price for the best article; to sell an inferior article for the highest price may be an accomplishment of the clever man, but it is one that is not only somewhat rare, but very dangerous. If detected its possession is a detriment to the possessor. If a new customer could be found for each sale it would not make so much matter, but when we consider that one sale is but the first should be right.

To produce the best articles of either fowl or egg necessitates much of painstaking preparation, and much of daily detail and labor. To be sure specimens for show and market can be produced without this, but they will not be the best. Surely the satisfaction, to say nothing of the profit of obtaining the highest reward is enough to pay for the effort.

In the beginning the producer should aim to produce that for which he can obtain the best return. A careful study should be made of the wants of the market he is going to supply; that, which will be just right for one, will not do perhaps for another. Chickens with white skin are in greatest favor in some places, while others prefer those having a yellow hue. Bantams and exhibition or ornamental specimens are not in as great demand in the country or smaller towns as in the larger places. High prices, usually denominated 'fancy' will often be obtained from the patron, who enthusiastically keeps a few for pleasure, that from the large breeder, who systematically works for profit only. One desires brown, another white eggs. Broilers sell well in some places in others are in no demand. Capons are sometimes in demand in some places are unknown. Location, including transportation rates, must also be taken into account.

Oftentimes a market does not know a really good thing, because it has never had it; in such cases it may well be worth while to introduce it, but such attempts should always be with great caution and on a small scale. If the demand is established, it is always easy to increase the supply.

With a knowledge of what is most desirable proper preparation in the way of getting the best, and the appliances for rearing it, must be made. With these secured the daily detail and labor of successful progress must be faithfully attended to. Remember, it is the very best we are aiming to produce. The specimens neglected for but a single day will not be as good as that always faithfully cared for. Perfection in poultry either for fancy or market stock can only be secured by having the right kind of care. The most and best eggs are produced in like manner.

It does not pay to raise mongrel stock. No one is justified in wasting time on mongrels. It is the same with poultry as with horses, cattle, sheep or hogs. The most money is to be made with thoroughbreds. It costs no more to raise pure blooded fowls than mongrels, and if you already have a stock of common poultry, you should sell off and buy full blooded ones, all of one breed.

Now in regard to marketing, and what follows applies more particularly to the Chicago market, with which I am most familiar. The best kind of chicken is a plump fowl with yellow skin, such as the Plymouth Rock, Wyandotte, Light Brahma, Leghorn or in fact, almost any chicken with light feathers. Stock of this kind dresses out yellow, and will always bring the top of the market. Dark feathered poultry, when dressed out, has a dark blue skin, and it always sells at a lower price than light colored stock.

The best breed of chickens for broilers is Plymouth Rock, Wyandotte and Light Brahma. The chicks should be hatched in January and February. It is hard to get hens to set in winter and is almost necessary for the farmer to use incubators to raise broilers in time to bring the best prices. The incubator on the farm is being brought to more profitable use every year. There is no doubt that the incubator and brooder method of raising chickens is a wonderful improvement on the hen method. Its cheaper and a greater number of fowls can be raised from the same number of eggs. Hens can be made to lay nearly double as many eggs if they are not required to set, and it is a good plan to use incubators instead of taking the hens from their work. The incubator is no longer an experiment. There are several first class machines on the market, and no mistake can be made in buying any one of half a dozen leading machines, which are guaranteed to give satisfaction.

The breed of turkeys raised does not make so much difference as the breed of chickens. Any kind of turkey will bring the market price, if it is plump and fat, although the Bronze seems to be the best all-around breed, and the blooded turkey will fatten more quickly and at less expense than the common run of fowls.

In raising ducks never keep any thing but white feathered stock. The Pekin duck is the best and always brings the top of the market.

With geese only the largest breeds should be kept. The Toulouse, African, or any other large breed is all right, and it costs no more to raise a large bird than a small one. The market is never overstocked on large, fat geese.

The best season, in which to sell chickens, is from the first of January to the first of November. Every farmer seems to want to dispose of his poultry during November and December, and consequently the market is always overstocked at that time. The surplus young roosters should be sold during September and October, as they will bring more money than later. If it is impossible to market them until after that time, it is best to hold them until after the first of January, for prices are always low during the intervening months. Turkeys are most salable around the holidays. Old turkeys and large young gobblers should be marketed for Thanksgiving and Christmas; poor stock should never be sent to the market. All should be well fattened before being shipped. The hens and small young gobblers should be kept until after the holidays.

THE WHOLE SYSTEM May Become Invaded by Catarrh-General Lewis' Case.

Hon. James Lewis, Surveyor General of Louisiana.

Per-na Drug Mfg Co., Columbus, O.: "Gentlemen—I have used Per-na for a short time and can cheerfully recommend it as being all you represent and wish every man who is suffering with catarrh could know of its great value. Should I at any future time have occasion to recommend a treatment of your kind, rest assured that yours will be the one, James Lewis."

Wherever the catarrh is, there is sure to be a waste of mucus. The mucus is as precious as blood. Its blood, in fact, is blood plasma—blood with the corpuscles removed. To stop this waste, you must stop this catarrh. A course of treatment with Per-na never fails to do this.

Send for free catarrh book. Address The Per-na Drug Manufacturing Co., Columbus, O.

uary to the first of November. Every farmer seems to want to dispose of his poultry during November and December, and consequently the market is always overstocked at that time. All should be well fattened before being shipped. The hens and small young gobblers should be kept until after the holidays.

The appearance of poultry has more to do with the selling of it than the kind of packages in which it is shipped.

In selecting a shipment of poultry for the market the breeder will find it to be of advantage to have his birds of uniform size. They look better and neater and will bring a higher price. Pack them all neatly, for appearance has much to do with finding a market for them. Handle the carcasses so carefully that the light outer skin will not be broken. The skin under skin showing through in spots detracts from their appearance.

There is one thing which breeders generally overlook and that is the saving of feathers. While it might not pay to save feathers from a few fowls, it would undoubtedly pay well where a large number are dressed out, and thus the fowls would contribute their last item to the poultry fund.

THE NEW YORK WORLD.

The most widely circulated "weekly" newspaper in America is the Thrice-a-Week edition of The New York World, and with the presidential campaign now at hand you can not do without it. Here are some of the reasons why it is easily the leader in dollar a year journalism.

It is issued every other day, and is to all purposes a daily.

Every week each subscriber receives 18 pages and often during the "big" season 24 pages each week.

The price is only $1.00 per year. It is virtually a daily at the price of a weekly.

Its news covers every known part of the world. No weekly newspaper could stand alone and furnish such service.

The Thrice-a-Week World has at its disposal all of the resources of the greatest newspaper in existence—the wonder of modern journalism—"America's Greatest Newspaper," as it has been justly termed—"The New York World."

Its political news is absolutely impartial. This fact will be of especial value in the Presidential campaign coming on.

Woodson Tells His Paper About the Trip.

The Visiting Correspondents Say Goebel is as Good as Elected.

Urey Woodson sent this report to his paper at the end of Bryan's second day in Kentucky:

At the end of Mr. Bryan's second day in Kentucky, after a tour of 1,000 miles, and speaking to more than 76,000 people, I asked him to-night what was his impression of the situation in Kentucky. He replied that he liked it. He thought the Democrats had their affairs in excellent shape. He believed from what he had seen that Goebel would surely win. Mr. Bryan has not formed this opinion on account of the great crowds that have come out to hear him or from their enthusiastic greetings of him, but in his observation of the intense interest in and devotion to Goebel. The fervor of the people, the approval of Goebel's speeches manifested in every adience that has been to hear him, has brought on this conviction that Goebel can not be defeated. He has learned also at a number of places where he has spoken that Goebel had recently drew almost such crowds as himself, and that Taylor has not really had a good crowd. He has also sized up the Brown bolt. Goebel has grown up on Bryan. He enjoys Goebel's many speeches, and listens intently to him.

At Lexington today Bryan made his greatest speech. At Stanford tonight he had the greatest crowd of the day. At Mt. Sterling, Richmond and Stanford the people seemed to be in a perfect frenzy of delight over Bryan's coming.

The enthusiasm manifested at these speeches is marvelous. The demonstrations over Goebel were quite as great as those over Bryan, and everywhere Blackburn was greeted with much heartiness. Blackburn made strong speeches at Richmond and Stanford. Goebel's greatest effort was at Lexington, where he surpassed all previous speeches and the audience roared its appreciation.

The monster demonstrations have convinced the New York, Chicago and Washington newspaper correspondents that Goebel's victory is practically won. James Creel, of the New York Journal, offers to bet $100 to $900 on Goebel. He has made careful investigations for several days. He declares there can be no doubt of Goebel's victory. West, of the Washington Post, sizes up the situation the same way, as does Allison, of the Enquirer, and others.

The Plan Goebel.

If testimony is needed in support of the proposition that Goebel is the right sort of man for governor it can be found in abundance. He was Hardin's second choice, while Stone wanted Goebel to get the nomination if he couldn't get it for himself. John Young Brown (saying himself always) was for Goebel first. He told Senator Frazier of Shelby county, that when Goebel made a man a promise, the man could go to sleep with absolute assurance that the promise would be kept to the very letter. On another occasion Brown said Goebel can write a better brief on one page of paper than most lawyers can write on 20 pages. Judge Pryor, one of the ablest and best men in the state, said when friends tried to get him to run for governor: "I am for Senator Goebel. I know him, and therefore I am for him. I would rather see him governor than be governor myself. Such a man is needed in Kentucky today."—Henderson Gleaner.

C. R. Clark announces himself as a candidate to represent the Seventh ward in the City Council. Election Nov. 7th, 1899.

—TUESDAY, OCT. 25, 1899.—

Gen. Funston has accepted the appointment as Brigadier General and will return to Manila.

Yellow fever has taken a fresh start. Keywest has 15 new cases, Miami, Fla., 5 and Jackson, Miss., 5 cases.

Senator Goebel is speaking this week in Louisville and will make several speeches. He will make a few more speeches out in the State next week.

Gov. C. S. Thomas, of Colorado, will speak to-night to-morrow night and the next night to the Democratic ticket at Winchester, Paris and Louisville.

Maj. Guy Howard, a son of Gen. O. O. Howard, was among the Americans killed in the fighting in the Philippines on Saturday. His home was in Omaha.

Instead of 1,500 Boers being killed at Mafeking, as first reported, Col. Baden Powell, who was in command of the British, says that fifty-three were killed.

Several speakings were held in Louisville last night for the Democratic ticket. Col. W. R. Howell, who has finished his tour of the mountains, was one of the speakers.

Hallam says Goebel is a bad man and yet when they both ran for the same nomination Goebel got eight votes to Hallam's one. Can any little boy figure out from this how bad Hallam is?

We want to again call the attention of the colored population to the fact that one Taylor button is enough this year. Some of them, following their old habits, are wearing two or more.

The Democrats of Covington have already answered Carlisle's attack on Goebel by nominating him for State Senator and electing him for a third time, since the alleged letters were written. The gathering of 30,000 people at Covington the other night also gave emphasis to the esteem in which Goebel is held by his home people.

Taylor's advice to Republicans in his speeches to force their way into the poll rooms to get their votes counted is now being followed up by Deboe's predictions that blood will flow on election day and the threats to use the federal authority to interfere in the election. These bluffs are a part of the program to frighten the timid. They will not work. The desperate Republicans are grasping at straws. They have been driven from their claims of fraud by an equal division of officers and are now raising a cry of force at the polls. Bah!

If Charlie Bronston wants to know the effect of his bolting speech, let him go down to the nearest river, throw a rock into the middle of the stream and watch the hole where the pebble disappears. That is about the size of the vacancy he leaves behind him in the Democratic party.

The Republicans threw down the Brownies at Lexington and nominated a straight Republican city ticket in violation of an agreement. The Brownies are so mad that many of them will have nothing more to do with the Taylor Aid Society.

D. R. Perry, Democratic nominee for the Legislature, is making a vigorous canvass all over the county. He is opposing the present revenue bill and taking the stand that a taxpayer should not be required to pay taxes on his debts.

The free turnpike question is beginning to attract a lively interest. It will be voted on next month and indications are that the proposition will easily carry.

THOSE WONDERFUL SEALS.

One of the Leading Features of the Adam Forepaugh-Sells Brothers' Shows.

What is undoubtedly one of the most wonderful acts now before the public is given by Captain Woodward's performing seals and sea lions at each exhibition of the Adam Forepaugh-Sells Brothers' United Shows. These seals are at once the admiration and astonishment of the circus-going public, and they have received columns of notices in the papers. When the big double circus was exhibiting in the Madison Square Garden, in New York City, the journals of the metropolis spoke most enthusiastically of these remarkable animals. It is no easy matter to train a seal to discharge firearms, play on musical instruments and juggle burning bands, as do Capt. Woodward's seals. It requires unlimited patience and much gentleness. A seal will do almost anything, but he always expects to be rewarded, and if Capt. Woodward did not give each of his seals a fish after each individual performance the seals would be highly offended, and would go through the next feat with evident reluctance.

"I never neglect rewarding my seals," said Capt. Woodward. "By so doing they work willingly and harmoniously, and that, when you come to consider it, is everything. In many respects the seal is like a dog, and he has to be looked after just as carefully. It took me several years to teach two of the seals to toss in the air and catch sticks whose ends had been set ablaze. But patience and kindness go a long way with animals, and I feel well rewarded."

Woodward's amazing seals, together with a big string of other rare special attractions, will be seen here with Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' big circus consolidation, Wednesday, October 25.

ed with fine business blocks and Palatial residences and the city blossoms like a rose under wise and beneficent rule.

They have seen the prompt removal of any improper official or employee and the rigid enforcement of laws promoting good order.

No man of any party can deny that these are all good and valid reasons for continuing Democratic rule. The people are asked to vote for a change in order that those set aside to better the service may be returned to power. These people make no promise of improving the conduct of affairs, for there is but little room for improvement. The city is admitted on all hands to be well governed, law-abiding and moral to an exceptional degree.

During the recent Street Fair, with 20,000 people packing the streets, there was but little dissipation and no unlawful disorder. There were but few arrests and none for breaches of the peace. The morals of the city were protected by a firm and fearless mayor and a vigilant and efficient police force. Only one attempt to run an immoral show was made and the parties in that instance were arrested, fined and driven out of town within an hour.

Will the Democrats and other property owners of the city, vote against such an administration as we have had for the last two years to place in power a set responsible to no party or organization, running without a platform of principles with no object but revenge and no incentive but spoils?

South Before The War.

Harry Martell's big southern production, "South Before the War," will be manager Holland's attraction on Tuesday, Oct. 24.

This play is entirely different from anything of its kind that has been produced. The combination of dainties, big and little, numbering fifty people; the performance embracing a great variety of music, buck and wing dancing, camp meeting scenes, superb singing by four quartettes with a chorus of forty voices, a general cake walk which creates uproarious laughter, are some of the features. A carload of new scenery depicting a cotton field in full bloom; Frog Island and the old Mississippi steamboat, Robert E. Lee, and several new ones that will be a surprise, by their true realism, and is a revelation in the art of stage craft, making the production the most realistic, and to those of the younger generation who have often heard what a plantation was in ante-bellum days, this play will give a most comprehensive idea.

There is also a parade on the day of the performance, leaving at 12 o'clock, and to miss it will be missing a treat.

Gallery reserved exclusively for colored people.

QUIT THE GANG.

Jim Cook Couldn't Stomach the Crowd He Was In.

Mr. Jas. O. Cook has withdrawn from the race for councilman in the Fourth ward in opposition to the Democratic candidate. Mr. Cook is for the Democratic State ticket. He was one of the very few Democrats deluded into lending their influence to the mixed ticket. Luckily for him, he saw the drift of things in time to cut loose from the crowd with which he found himself allied. He declined to stay on the ticket and there was a general bustle Saturday to find some one to take his place. Mr. Frank Yost was finally prevailed upon to get on "just to fill the vacancy," but it is by no means certain that he can be kept on until the election.

There is no politics in free turnpikes. That is one proposition we can all vote for, no matter how greatly we differ on other questions.

Republicans, Democrats and the turnpike committee are all now busily distributing sample ballots and educating the voters. Every body ought to be able to vote intelligently on Nov. 7.

James Reed Injured.

Mr. James Reed, struck his leg against a cake of ice in such a manner as to bruise it severely. It became very much swollen and pained him so badly that he could not walk without the aid of crutches. He was treated by physicians, also used several kinds of liniment and two and a half gallons of whiskey in bathing it, but nothing gave any relief until he began using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. This brought almost a complete cure in a week's time and he believes that had he not used this remedy his leg would have had to be amputated. Mr. Reed is one of the leading merchants of Clay Court House, W. Va. Pain Balm is unequalled for sprains, bruises and rheumatism. For sale by R. C. Hardwick, Druggist.

The happy event will take place at the home of Mrs. Hook, 327 N. Third Street, Paducah, and will be witnessed by only a few of the most intimate friends of the contracting parties. As soon as the ceremony is performed the couple will come to Lafayette, where they will make their future home.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Cannon Case Dismissed—Layne Will Case Being Heard.

The $25,000 damage suit of J. G. Cannon's administratrix against the L. & N. railroad company was called Friday and trial entered into. After the testimony of the plaintiff was introduced the court gave peremptory instructions to find for defendant.

Cannon was killed by detached cars near Kelly station several months ago and the petition alleged that his death was due to negligence of the agents of the company.

On Saturday the Mathew Layne will case was taken up and the trial is now in progress.

As yet no motion has been made for a new trial in the Washington case by counsel for defense. A conference will be held Thursday by the attorneys, when action will probably be taken.

There are several Commonwealth cases set for trial this week.

Next week will be taken up in the disposition of equity and common law matters and court will probably not adjourn until Nov. 4.

FENTON CAYCE.

Death of a Bright Young Man Near Beverly.

Fenton Cayce, of Beverly, died Saturday morning at the home of his father, after an illness of three weeks of typhoid fever, aged 19 years. He was a student at South Kentucky College last term and was a very bright and promising young man, popular with all, and his death is a source of deep sorrow to all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon by Elder H. D. Smith, of this city, and the remains were laid to rest in the George Cayce burying ground.

IN CITY COURT.

One Defendant Had a Chill And Was Released.

Matters have been quiet in police circles for the past few days. A man named Martin was fined $5 and costs yesterday morning for drunkenness. The amount, $6, was forthcoming.

George Smith, col., was locked up Saturday night on a charge of drunkenness. Sunday morning he had a very hard chill and was permitted to go home.

MRS. PINKHAM says that irritability indicates disease. Women who are nervous and snappish are to be pitied. Their homes are uncomfortable; their dispositions grow constantly worse. Such women need the counsel and treatment of a woman who understands the peculiar troubles of her sex.

EVERY-DAY TALKS WITH WOMEN

your Vegetable Compound has done for me. It has helped me more than anything else. I suffered for a long time with nervousness, pains in back and limbs and falling of the womb; also had neuralgia in my head and could not sleep. I told my husband that something must be done, for I was nearly frantic with pain. Having read of the wonderful cures Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had performed, I determined to try it. I have taken it and am happy to say I am cured. I recommend it to all my friends and never tire of telling the benefit I have derived from its use. I have you alone to thank for my recovery.

Mrs. ELLEN FLANAGAN, 1850 Mountain St., Philadelphia, Pa., writes: "DEAR Mrs. PINKHAM—Three years ago I was a sufferer from chronic dyspepsia, was irritable and cross, and can say that after taking seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was entirely cured. I take great pleasure in writing this to you and would be pleased to be interviewed by any one who is afflicted with that distressing complaint. I am very grateful to you."

FOR GOEBEL

Are the Members of the Democratic National Committee.

The eyes of Democrats all over the United States are turned toward Kentucky. The Democratic national committee, which met at Chicago Sept. 18, adopted the following resolutions:

"The national committee of the Democratic party in session at Chicago to consider the work of party organization preparatory to the election of 1900, and in view of the Democracy of the nation, with the assurance that the prospect of Democratic success next year grows brighter every day, and we have every reason for confidence as to the outcome. The great need now is party unity and thorough organization. The committee appeals, therefore, to our party friends in all the states, and especially in the states where elections are to be held this year, to put aside all local differences wherever they exist, and support the regular party ticket earnestly and enthusiastically, keeping always in view the great struggle of next year, and remembering that in unity there is strength and in division weakness. Especially do we appeal to the Kentucky Democracy to give loyal support to the regular ticket in that state, headed by Mr. Goebel, and thereby make a sure Democratic victory of the state and the return of ex-Senator Blackburn to the senate of the United States."

Bryan's Suggestions.

In his speech, delivered at Chicago Mr. Bryan, in discussing the Trust Evil, suggested one remedy. He said: "The great trouble has been that while our platform denounces corporations, corporations control the elections and place under obligations to them the men who are elected to enforce the law. Let me propose a remedy—not a remedy but a step, I think, in the right direction. Let the laws, state and national, make it a penal offense for any corporation to contribute to any campaign fund of any political party. You remember the testimony taken before a senate committee a few years ago when the head of the sugar trust testified that the sugar trust made it its business to contribute to campaign funds, and when asked to which one it contributed, replied that it depended on circumstances. 'To which fund do you contribute in Massachusetts?' was asked. 'To the Republican fund.' 'To which fund in New York?' 'To the Democratic fund.' 'To which fund in New Jersey?' 'Well, I have to look at the books; that is a doubtful state.' I don't mean to say that the remedy will be a complete one, but I believe when you prevent a corporation from contributing to campaign funds you have taken a step in the right direction towards better legislation."

This is a forecast of the speeches Mr. Bryan will make in Kentucky during the last half of October. If a law existed in Kentucky and could be applied to the L. & N. railroad, the state Democratic ticket would win by 100,000 majority.

Discrimination Is Robbery.

Bourke Cockran in his speech at the trust meeting at Chicago said: "The public official in control of any great public franchise, who gives to any one man opportunities at the expense of another, robs that other party, if not of the property in his possession, of the opportunity to acquire property."

It is this evil that the McChord railroad bill, introduced by the Democratic convention, is intended to prevent. Mr. Cockran suggested this remedy: "An officer of a corporation granting a special favor to any person who has the right to use that possession on equal terms with everybody else ought to be held guilty of a serious felony. No fines, no judicial rebukes, no denunciation from platforms, no legislative enactments declaring things are reprehensible will touch the subject, but a specific enactment that a special rate granted to any one not enjoyed by the other is a felony, and proper means toward punishing it will do something toward checking it, and, my friends, this is not any inconsiderable statement; it is a crime of the first magnitude."

Republicans Foster Trusts.

Trusts have grown to such ominous proportions during the last two years, and are creating so much alarm among the people in all the states, that the leading men are being called together in conference to devise some means to check growth of these unlawful combinations, and compel them to submit to the requirements of law. Mr. Bryan has been called upon to attend three such conferences within a month. The governors of the various states are being urged to call the legislature together in special session to enact rigid anti-trust laws. The Democrats in the last Kentucky legislature introduced and championed such a law, and it would have passed but for the solid opposition of the Republican members. Do you think in the face of that conduct that the Republican party in Kentucky can be relied upon to place a controlling hand on these unlawful combinations?

Every Republican in the legislature except one voted against the McChord railroad bill. Every Democrat voted for it. Two senators, elected as Democrats, changed their votes, after the bill was voted, and voted against it. These two men took part in the L. & N. convention at Lexington and are now opposing the Democratic ticket.

Woman Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life will make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliancy, the glow of the bloom on a peach, which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant drains which are often consequent on marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its beauty. It is surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form at once witness to the fact in complexion. Half a million women and more have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Female Preservative. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

When Mr. McKinley tells his crowds of the busy hours of industry, they can hear the presidential bee buzzing in his bonnet.

GOEBEL SURE TO WIN

In Kentucky—Bryan's Coming Tour Will Clinch a Practically

Certain Victory, And the Demo- cratic Organization Will Carry the State by Ten Thousand.

Jas. Creelman in New York Journal. Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 17.—The coming of Mr. Bryan to Kentucky turns the hopes of President McKinley to dust and from every part of the state evidence is pouring in to-day by mail and by telegraph that Senator Goebel will be elected Governor in spite of the attempted treason represented by Mr. Brown's candidacy.

All the talk of shooting Mr. Bryan or waylaying him has died out. The revolting Democratic conspirators hoped to frighten the Democratic leader out of the State, but Mr. Brown and his friends did not know Mr. Bryan as they thought they did.

This afternoon I have had a chance to examine privately the sheets of the house to house canvass made by the Democratic committee in each of the 119 counties of Kentucky, and the absolute break-up of the Brown movement is clearly indicated.

Every hour the Goebel forces grow in strength and enthusiasm. Mr. Taylor, the Republican candidate, has failed to arouse the spirit of his party. The Republican managers have made the mistake of relying on the Brown conspiracy and on the serenity of the disappointed gold Democratic leaders to destroy the Democratic party at the polls. The result is general apathy among Republicans.

Brown is Being Deserted.

Yesterday three of Brown's county chairmen deserted him, and today ex-Congressman Boyd, of Winchester, one of the most powerful gold Democrats in Kentucky, has declared himself for Goebel.

Hundreds of gold Democrats are re-entering the party every day. I make this statement after careful investigation. It is easy to see how a Democratic victory in Kentucky is now made sure. Most of the gold Democrats who are not for Goebel are supporting Brown. In fact, the Brown movement has dwindled down into a gold Democratic movement. The Bryan Democrats have practically withdrawn from it.

The number of gold Democrats credited to Brown in the poll sheets which are arriving every hour, shows that the Republicans will lose this year, the vote of the men who made it possible for McKinley to carry the State in 1896 by a plurality of 281.

It is safe to set down Kentucky in the Democratic column next year. This means another state for Bryan and it also means the certain reelection of Joe Blackburn to the Senate.

Not only will Mr. Bryan make seventeen speeches for Goebel, but Mayor Harrison will come to the State with the Cook County Marching Club, and Mayor Van Wyck sent word today that he, too, would come to Kentucky to raise his voice for the Democracy.

After seeing many of the wisest men in the three political camps, I have secured accurate information of the facts revealed thus far by both the Republican and Democratic house to house poll of the State:

I cannot see how it is possible to bring Goebel's plurality below ten thousand votes. The Democratic organization is absolutely perfect this year.

It was never before considered necessary to make a Democratic house to house poll of Kentucky, the normal majority being great enough to leave a margin for all probable variations.

But the size of the gold Democratic vote in 1896 convinced the leaders this year that in order to prepare the ground for the national campaign next year, nothing should be left to chance. Names are nearly all in, and it is safe to call Kentucky a Democratic State again.

Justice—"You are charged with stealing Colonel Julep's chickens. Have you any witnesses?" Uncle Mose—"I heb not. I don't steal chickens befo' witnesses."—Amusing Journal.

WHY NOT IN KENTUCKY?

Indiana is Being Stocked With Pheasants.

Fish and Game Commissioner Z. T. Sweeney is preparing to stock the state of Indiana with Chinese pheasants. As a beginning he has purchased 100 pairs from a pheasantry near Cincinnati and these will be distributed in fifty Indiana counties. Domestic hens are to be employed in hatching eggs of these pheasants, for whose protection during the winter particular care is to be taken. Next year the state will make more extensive purchases. Mr. Sweeney says these birds are as hardy as quail and he expects in a few years to make Indiana a great pheasant state.

A Poultry Thief Shot.

A poultryman in Rhode Island who had had trouble with poultry thieves decided to protect his buildings by an electric burglar alarm, and was awakened the other night by the alarm ringing. Going out towards the poultry house, he discovered two men escaping through the orchard. He called upon them to stop, which only quickened their steps, and he fired a charge at them to "bring them to." One of the men dropped, and the other escaped. An examination revealed that the escaping thief had been shot dead, and that he was an Italian, living in an adjoining town.

The report says he leaves a widow and three children, and it is, of course, unfortunate that the husband and father should lose his life, but who could be foolish to let the thieves escape him, and a man is certainly justified in protecting his property even to the point of taking human life if necessary; and with two to one, and presumably desperate men at that, we think he would be justified in shooting.

Our account tells us only that the poultryman surrendered himself to the sheriff, and was released on nominal bail, pending the action of the grand jury. We shall watch for the outcome of the case with interest.—Farm Poultry.

The "Hungry Hen" Lottery.

The hungry hen lottery has been hard hit by a decision at Washington, to the effect that matter relating to it is unmailable. The scheme, which was originated by a poultry journal, is to place on a sheet a quart of wheat, the kernels having been counted. On this sheet are placed three Plymouth Rock hens, that have been kept from feed for six hours. After ten minutes the hens will be removed, and the remaining kernels counted. The subscriber to the poultry journal who guesses nearest to the number eaten by the hens hereby being ascertained. The subscriber to the poultry journal who guesses nearest to the number eaten by the hens will receive $50. The decision which is given by attorney general Griggs, reads:

"The eating propensities of hens, even though they be of the same breed, undoubtedly vary, and the number of kernels eaten by one would be no criterion as to the number that would be taken up by another at a different time, although under precisely the same conditions. In my opinion this scheme is a lottery, and all matter relating to it is unmailable."—Boston Evening Transcript.

"What's the matter between you and your neighbor?" asked the judge.

"I cultivate a garden, and he keeps hens."

"Sentence suspended. I live in the suburbs myself."—Exchange.

Which mine is thine and which mine is mine? is the Transvaal question. It is a mine and thine problem.

A WORD OF CAUTION.

The old saying that "a man, who is naked can't give away his shirt," is only another way of saying that you can't give what you haven't got. The man can't give "free medical advice," or any other kind of medical advice who hasn't got a medical education and a certificate to the fact, in the form of a diploma. And in this particular a woman has no more privilege than a man. She can't give medical advice without medical education and medical knowledge.

The offer of free medical advice made by Dr. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has been imitated by so many, who without any medical qualifications claim to give "medical advice" that a word of caution is necessary.

Don't write for medical advice to any one, man or woman, who is not a physician. If they are physicians they will take the title of physicians or doctors so that you may recognize them. If they don't claim that title it is because they dare not, for fear of the law.

Do not forget that there is just as much difference in doctors as in artists. Every little town has its artist who draws and paints. But these "artists" generally paint copies of the works of great artists like Millet. There was only one Millet.

There is only one Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, such as Dr. Pierce presides over. Thousands of women come or write to Dr. Pierce who have found no help at the hands of doctors of lesser skill and narrower experience.

Any sick or ailing woman suffering from the distressing forms of disease peculiar to women, is invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. Such consultations are absolutely private. Each letter is treated as a sacred confidence, and each answer is sent in a plain envelope, bearing no printing upon it.

In this way offensive questions and repulsive examinations may be avoided. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

SHOT IN THE FACE.

Officer Lander Plugs Will Harris—Wound Not Serious.

Officer Geo. Lander shot Will Harris, col., Saturday morning. The wound, while very painful, is not considered serious.

Harris, it seems, in company of another negro, was near the Greenville crossing, close by the L. & N. water tank, and when the officer approached then he asked the negroes some questions as to where they lived, etc. Harris became very insolent and abusive and the policeman told him he would take him to the police station. He refused to accompany Lander and stood with a rock in his hand in a threatening attitude and when the officer ordered the negro to drop the rock he refused and was fired upon. The ball entered Harris' right cheek near the corner of the mouth and came out just below the right ear. The negro then accompanied the policeman to the police station, where the wound was dressed by Dr. Leverett. Officer Lander surrendered to the authorities and it is likely the examining trial will be held some time this week.
